FRENCH GET SETBACK IN AISNE BATTLE AS THEY ATTEMPT MOVE TO FLANK GERMANS

BULLETIN

Paris, Oct. 3.—The allied left continued to encounter the most desperate resistance from the heavily reinforced German right which is using every man available in the army. The result has been a check, slight it is stated, but nevertheless a check to the operations northward.

Paris, Oct. 3.—The flanking movement of the allies against the right wing of the German army in France has met a strong and unexpected obstacle in a heavy force of Germans who have apparently swept down from Southern Belgium and hard fighting is in progress between the French and the invaders around Douai, 15 miles northeast of Arras.

There are indications that the flanking operations of the allies have met with a check, but French military men in Paris expressed confidence today that they would eventually be successful.

The French army of the north will be stupendous and will number 25 miles of the Bel. doubtless stand without parallel in history. There is a constant in the history of warfare. There is no record of a battle of the like magnitude. A freshing in the battle of the Aisne of Germans has been hurling with hostilities closing and flowing westward in an attempt to outflank the French forces that have the 150 mile front.

The severest fighting now is along the allies' left particularly in the vicinity of Roye and Douai or the battle of "Seven rivers," and along the Meuse on the allies' as it may be known to history, right.

The mighty battle of the Aisne in the vicinity of Roye and Douai or the battle of "Seven rivers," and along the Meuse on the allies' as it may be known to history, right. The French and British are now broken all records for the number of men engaged, for paying a heavy price in blood. The number of men killed and the for every inch of ground gained duration of the conflict. All land held, especially in the though no official figures have been given out of the casualties of the Oise and the up to date, all agree that they Aisne rivers.

German Success Claimed

Berlin, (via Amsterdam) Oct. 3.—German troops have taken the offensive in both the eastern and western theatres of war, after checking attacks by the Russians in Poland and the allied Franco British armies in France, it was announced today.

No decisive results have been achieved in the conflict that has been in progress in France for three weeks," said the statement, "but at the western front of the battle line we have gained ground. This is due to the offensive we have taken after repulsing the attacks of the enemy which seemed to be diminishing in strength, despite the reinforcements that gave them a temporary advantage in the flanking movement being attempted by their left wing. Our reinforcements have now offset the weight that they threw against our lines on the west.

In the region of the Meuse the first assault and we are in the continues night and day, ourselves on the offensive. The enemy appears to have the bayonet charges, to bring up new troops also, but it is apparent that the Allies attempts to take our position. The fort will be unable to withstand the repulse and he is now in the fate of those at Liege who defended against our con- and Namur. Our artillery is extending its operations and the city is being invested." The situation in the center is being investigated. The general staff has issued an order that no correspondent, with superior forces (painter, or photographer) shall be allowed to remain the ground allowed with the German armies, but under the impetus of war in the future.

Provinces Offered Roumania By Russia For Military Help

Bucharest, Oct. 3.—A meeting will be held by the announced to the Roumanian government next week to decide the matter. The Roumanian provinces of Transylvania and Transylvania as far as the side of Russia is allowed for participation of most universal. As a result King Carol, who is a Hohenzollern and conditions are that the sympathizers with Germany and Roumanian army be thrown into serious ill, it is believed immediately, the Roumanian will leave his country if the Russian proposal is accepted.

Having already been by Russians, if Roumania participates she will have been ill with pleurisy pneumonia at her home on Timmons avenue, improves very slowly.

Magazine Explodes; Kills 4

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 3.—Four men were killed and many injured today by an explosion of the powder magazine of the fire works manufacturing plant of the Detwiler & Street Company on the Hackensack meadows just outside the city. It was reported to police headquarters that the number injured was probably 40. All the ambulances in Jersey City were sent to the scene. Windows were broken a mile away.

Of the 150 men usually employed at the plant approximately half were on duty today. The plant consisted of perhaps a dozen or more small buildings scattered over several acres of ground at distances of 40 feet or more apart. The explosion occurred in the drying room. Twenty one persons were taken to hospitals within an hour, some of them believed to be mortally injured.

John Andrews, superintendent of the plant, was placed under arrest.

Veteran Shoots At Supposed Bear And Man Falls From Tree

Harrisburg, Va., Oct. 3.—David Reed a confederate veteran hunting bear through the Allegheny mountains here today thought he had his quarry up a tree and fired.

To his horror Price Lily, aged 23, fell dead from the bows where he had been gathering chestnuts. Distracted with grief Reed attempted to kill himself, but was prevented from so doing by the dead man's cousin who was nearby.

Antwerp, via London, Oct. 3.—The German bombardment of Antwerp was extended last night to four more forts on the south and southeast of the city and shells were being rained today upon the entire first line of defense. It is stated at the war office that thus far the German bombardment has been unsuccessful. The only

ANTWERP HOLDS OUT AGAINST BESIEGERS

Antwerp, Oct. 3. The town of Lierne was again bombarded today and many houses were damaged. The Belgians replied with bayonets to the German attack.

Early today a German aeroplane moved over Antwerp and captured 30 prisoners and inflicted several losses on the Germans. The Belgians allowed the enemy to approach Ft. Waelhem.

The fort then opened fire compelling the Germans to retire with heavy losses.

Tremouille was also attacked, but the Belgians blew up a bridge and repulsed the enemy.

now in progress in France. If the Russians can defeat the German Austria now, their next step will be to advance on Berlin. Germany is making a final and desperate stand. She has masked the flower of her military in the army here. Every man that is spared in France is sent to the east. The Kaiser himself is in the charge of the movement and is aided by many of the general staff. Germany has staked everything on this battle.

Petrograd, Oct. 3. The long expected battle between the German and Russian armies in western Russia Poland is on a sword edge to reports from the front to day. The advance guards of the two armies are in contact in the government of Kolozs, north of Vistula, and heavy skirmishing has already taken place.

The German front is reported to number 100,000 men along the curved front extending from Thorn to Cracow. In addition they are supported by at least 300,000 Austrians who form the right wing. The Russians are believed to number at least 1,000,000 men. In the meantime, fighting continues between the Germans retreating from the government of Silesia and the pursuing Russian troops.

GREAT BRITAIN THINKS WAR WILL BE LONG

London, Oct. 3.—Though the some master stroke would bring the situation. The fierce fighting of Russian forces on the Iron- German right is less than 50 miles from the invaders. Apparently still centers on that tie of Poland, but from Galicia, part of the battle line stretching where the Russians and combined forces for about 30 miles in an almost straight line from Rovno to death's grip before Cracow. The vicinity of the little town of Allert has again been the scene of vigorous action where French battle line this morning. From Petrograd there continues to indicate a marked change into pour in uninterrupted claims in Belgium means a serious attempt to take Antwerp and other points, or whether the operations are merely intended to harass the Belgians and prevent them from tampering with the German lines of communication.

Vienna, according to dispatches from the Austrian capital, is preparing for a siege and there is even talk of removing the seat of government.

KORN KARNIVAL NOTES

Awards in the corn section of a if the big Karnival are to be made by a man of many years' experience in this line of work and the executive committee feel assured that the different exhibitors will get just what is coming to them.

It was announced Saturday that A. L. Orcutt of London, O., had been selected to make the awards here. He is connected with the State Agricultural Society and will no doubt look after his end of the Karnival with characteristic thoroughness.

The people of the community will permit. This means that there will be over five thousand dollars-worth of velvet, plush, silk and satin robes of various shades of blue and Magnolia K. of P. and lines that have never before been exhibited outside of the city to exhibit and have invited the K. of P. lodges from Sevierville, Wheelersburg, Harrisonville, South and Otway to join them in the line of march. This parade will take the place of the regular meeting which these lodges have each winter, and County W. Ed Boshner has perfect arrangements, together with counters from both Magnolia and Masonic lodges whereby the association of the Pythians in the annual parade will be effected. It is not generally known that the two lodges in the city have very gorgeous and expensive robes for the third degree team. Special permission has been granted from the Grand Channel of the State of Ohio to use various robes in the feature parade, providing the weather

John Raab, a retired German brother of No. 417 Chillicothe street claims to be the oldest John in the city. Mr. Raab is 90 years of age.

John Bassler, well known West End citizen, promises to be the noisiest John in the parade of the Johns.

The Gusto Trio will be a busy organization next week as it has five Korn Karnival engagements. The boys have a number of out-of-town engagements this winter.

N. & W. Passenger Agent R. E. Scott received word from Ashland that possibly 100 Shriners would come to Portsmouth Thursday, October 8 to take part in fraternal parade. The N. & W. excursion from fronton may be run in two sections.

The Mitchell Manufacturing Company's Korn Karnival display, which will be directly in front of the mayor's office, will include the same machine which made shoe strings for President Taft at the Cincinnati exposition a few years ago.

Her Neighbor's Advice

"I was hurt in an accident," says Mrs. A. C. Lewis, of Tribune, Kansas, "and suffered from an ailment peculiar to women. I had sore spots all over, and they said I had nervous prostration. We spent over $100 in doctoring, but I was not helped. I could not sleep or eat—could not raise my head from the pillow, that is, until our neighbors recommended CARDUI, and my husband went 8 miles through a blizzard to get it. CARDUI saved my life, for I was soon able to get up, and could sleep all right. Now I am getting along fine, and do not suffer any more. I am a friend to CARDUI and recommend it to all."

SHOW BILLS
BY JO MITCHELL

I see that during the coming carnival we are going to enjoy a great parade of "The Johns." And I have no doubt but that it will be an imposing and edifying spectacle and that "The Johns" will elicit the bravos of all brave men and the admiration of all the good-looking girls.

But if you desire a great moral up-lift why not have a parade of the Jo's and Jo-Jo's. Now it is well known that the Jo's are all fine descendants and pattern after Joseph of Old, who was the wisest and most virtuous of all history. The Jo's should be decorated with pure White Ribbons inscribed, "Behold the Tribe of the Only Truly Good." This array would be a striking example to all good men and an object lesson to all good little boys and girls. The writer, who is one of the Jo's, admits the whole truth of the above.

Moreover, if we are going to have a real three ring show with a full menagerie and a museum of all the natural curiosities, why not for the spice of variety, and for a spectacular pageant, have a parade of the "Bills." Show Bills like Bill Emmett, good bills like Galpinian, bad Bills like Bish, wild Bills like Bill McCall and Pete Manego, and then there are many counterfeited Bills that won't pass a saloon.

As all "True Bills" are required by law to be indorsed on the back this might be accomplished by tying a flaming ribbon, or a strip of red calico would be better, to their coat tails, with a tin can attached.

A large troupe of Bill Dodgers might be followed by a daring squad of rampant Bill Collectors. While the parade comes passing

GREATER THAN THE GOVERNMENT.

The Colorado operators decline to accept the peace terms presented by the President in order to settle the disagreeable and doubtful conflict between the miners and their employers and restore order. Here is a case where a corporation sets itself up against the peaceful wishes of the President of the United States in whom has been submitted the adjudication of their troubles by the miners, the general public and state officials, and the government has gone to the expense of having the matter thoroughly investigated by able and disinterested authority that recommended the plan proposed to the mine owners by the President. A corporation that will be so headstrong should not enjoy the protection of the laws or be permitted to do business under the laws. The President will withdraw troops from that state unless the mine owners submit to a fair adjustment of the trouble and civil war will again break out, it is predicted. There should be some common ground for such settlements in order to prevent the disastrous results that follow such quarrels. A compulsory arbitration law that many predict will be enacted at an early date will find a solution for these troubles it is thought, a law that will apply to all parties with every power of enforcement.

OUR KORN KARNIVAL EDITION.

That was a truly remarkable edition issued by The Times on Friday, one worthy of the spirit of the town and equal to any similar effort anywhere. As an advertisement of the merchants of the town, of the resources of the town, and of the Korn Karnival, it was superb.

We are especially proud of the edition as it was gotten up on short notice, was worked out by our own force, and put on the street without confusion or delay, the regular work on the daily and extra editions went on just as smoothly as if nothing unusual was going on and in every respect the completed paper was all that we could hope for or expect.

With our new building, especially arranged for speedy and efficient work, a fine mechanical equipment and a splendid force all along the line, we feel that we are in shape to meet any emergency requiring fast and accurate work.

DAN HANNA'S TAX RETURNS.

Since Daniel R. Hanna, owner of Cleveland newspapers, had a run-in with the Warrens law assessor in Portage county, his administration for the law has not increased to any measurable extent. In 1913 Dan, with an elected assessor, made a personal return of $15,000 and he got by with it. This year the same return was made but the appointed assessor under the Warrens law was of an inquiring turn of mind and he began making inquiries. The result was that Mr. Hanna's personality was found to amount to the huge sum of $1,378,775. He was put on the tax duplicate for that sum and he will have to pay taxes on it too.

Follows of the Hanna stripe, who have been piling up money while farmers and home owners paid the taxes are the men who are making the noise about the Warrens law.

PLAIN HYPOCRISY.

In these days of the near millennium one stands aghast to see the hypocrisy exhibited in by the standard politicians in their explanation of the "bad" roads plank in their platform. While their candidate for Governor, Mr. Willis is giving newspaper interviews and writing letters to tell the people that the plank, as he "knows it," does not mean the abolishment of the State Highway Department, on the other hand the committee of reaction in Columbus sends word out to the county commissioners and officials that the plank means what it says, that the county commissioners would build all roads and spend all road improvement money. Truly, in times of stress and danger the politicians resort to anything to win. In the meantime the people are deeply thinking and November will show that the vote shows how to read English as it is "written" nowadays.

ORDERED BY THE PEOPLE.

Most of the laws that were written into the statute books of the two years of the present Democratic administration in relation were enacted in compliance with the constitutional mandate that was adopted by the people of the state of Ohio in 1912. If you voted for these agreements you voted for a demand for the new progressive laws. If you voted against the progressive and you still oppose the new laws you are a deadweight.

THE DEPOSITORY LAW.

Stand patricians try the virtue of the state administration in its strict interest to the people because the depository law was passed under Hanna's administration. But it is seen that not Hanna's fellow after Hanna, and don't be grieved, Hanna's friends a bill of health, and then did not the people aware that the best they had a loaded treasury. It took the House of Representatives to clean house, and they have kept it ever since.

Many of us thought that Kirkland and the rest of the world in the world, but the greatest mystery that concerns us is where she finds a place to hide it from view. So far, 140 men have been found since the war and all bear same resemblance to the transport of Davy Jones.

THE MATTER OF ROADS.

"The plank in the Ohio Republican platform, calling for the abolition of the state highway department, perfectly characterizes the party of today, because it first declared for good roads and then advanced a proposition which would place the roads back in the mud."

It is lightning like illumination of a truth, just like this, that makes Roosevelt one of the great leaders of the times. He gave expression to it in his speech at Columbus, Monday, and if he had been in the state for the past ten years, studying all the ins and outs of its politics, he could have delivered no more smashing argument than that.

It is a widely admitted fact that Ohio now has the best system of securing good roads and the envious eye of the whole country is fixed upon her in note of the actually marvelous improvement that is going on with her highways.

It is a notorious fact, that up to less than ten years ago Ohio had the worst road laws, or at least squandered on roads the most money to the least effect.

The transformation was begun when the state took a hand in the supervision and construction of permanent roads and the advance made is simply astounding when one is able to view it in the aggregate. In the state in its entirety over 2,500 miles of highways that are built according to modern ideas and answer to modern requirements have been constructed under the new order. Here in the county, outside the city, there are near to eight miles of brick paving, unquestionably the best road construction that can be had. Plans are under way for more than doubling this mileage next year alone. Five years from now there will be five paved highways radiating in as many directions from Portsmouth to the county lines. Ten years from hence Scioto county will have all good roads instead of all bad ones that she had ten years ago.

Yet, it is not overstraining the case a bit to say that had it not been for the inauguration of state supervision and state aid there wouldn't be a mile of paved pike in Scioto county today, nor for many a long day to come.

The fellows who wrote that plank in the Republican platform knew what they wanted just as well as Theodore Roosevelt knows what will be the result if they get their way. It will mean a return to the old days when the commissioners were easy to handle and there was always a buyer to be found for road machinery in county and township when a hundred bridges and culverts were needed annually in every county and every year the road money was spent and not a rod of improved highway to show for it.

Why ever since the war each twenty years Scioto county spent more than a million dollars on the roads. Did anybody ever find anything but dust and mud on them before we began paving them at the direction of the state?

And this brave crew that wants to navigate a derelict upon the political seas back into her old port of power and pelf say its first act will be to repeal the law and damn the system, the only system that has made the creatures of bosses and politicians use the people's money to give value in good roads.

But the people will not stand for anything so absurd, so idiotic as that, not at least if all the people of the state are of a kind with us here in Scioto county.

Let us see, didn't some one else beside A. Rustem Bey do a lit bit too much talking much closer to the old home place of His Rustem than Rustem did to his?

THE MORATORIUM.

Some readers of war news may be puzzled by the not infrequent cablegram that the moratorium has been extended, or placed in operation, in this or that country.

The word does not import as deadly as it looks. Its meaning is that the legislative, or other supreme governing force, has suspended for a period, limited by fixed date or the passing of a crisis, the collection of debts. Most usually the decree prohibits banks from collecting of debtors, but it is not infrequently made to apply to all sorts of debts.

THAT OLD FOGLY ROAD PLANK.

That Republican road plank reminds one of the old road building policy of the past that said dump your taxation into the mudholes here, there and yonder and construct not a mile of decent roads in your county. According to government statistics the people under the old plan paid for a good road every nine years and did not get it. Under the new plan roads are constructed for permanent service. Which do you prefer?

The places where a fellow can reduce his thirst to a minimum and cure the most violent snake-bite are becoming so scattering in the state that has boasted of its limestone characteristics in the process of fermentation of grain, that there is much doubt created whether the crop of colonels will remain as large as heretofore. Anyway, if some method is not found to make available the necessary ingredients there is every promise that the fragrant mint bed will grow up in rag weed from disease.

SOCIAL NEWS

The Ladies' Aid Society of the New Boston Baptist church held a special meeting at the church Wednesday and spent Thursday, their regular meeting day, at the home of Mrs. Wm. Morgan, on Munro's Run.

There was quite a number started out about 9 a. m. from the home of Mrs. L. Sloan's with their baskets of good things to eat, and each one took a knife, for they had planned to have an apple-peeling.

Those who started to walk were joined by several others on the way out and when they reached the Morgan home they found that Mrs. Morgan had prepared a pretentious meal. The children had been taken out by Ogle Burcham in the automobile and they acted as a good reception committee to meet the weary travelers when they reached the end of their journey, about 10 o'clock. SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ill health it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicinal Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At druggists, 50c. large box, or by mail to Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

MOTIF FOR CENTREPIECE OR CUSHION

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, money, etc., etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly, Please give me a remedy for my hardness, as I am becoming very bald.

LOUIS S., happy and of 17, and I am going to see up to exaggerate their trouble.

I told "A Bald Headed" before, for a boy, I was a bald all the time, and that at every school I went to. I know that you would not set yourself up to a girl, but she might change her mind.

Do not think of leaving home to another place, because it is one. It is the best place you have. Girls of your age do not have any trouble, so you will not have any trouble.

W. H. G., parents not right, but the money is good. You will not have any trouble.

Dear Dolly, I am very sorry to tell you that I am a girl, and I am not right, but the money is good. You will not have any trouble.

Dear Dolly, When a man goes to a woman, he must be a good man. You are not a good man, and that is all I can tell you.

FRANK, from a girl, who is a good girl.

I see no reason why you should not be a good girl.

The ribbon leaves and lower part of the thistles are solidly embossed. The flowers are done in the outline stitch with a French knot at the end of each curved line. The stems are worked in the outline stitch. Use mercerized cotton No. 20 in white or colors.

DEAD MAN IS IDENTIFIED

The negro found dead alongside the N. & W. tracks at Five Mile church with a bullet wound in his back was identified at Dixie's morgue Saturday morning as George Wright, aged 38 years, of Washington, D. C.

The identification was made by Anne Mitchell-Wright, of Ashland, Ky., who at first glance recognized the features as those of her missing husband.

He had left Ashland last Wednesday in search of employment. A strange negro whom Mr. Wright had previously introduced to her as a friend told her of his death in a rather indifferent manner Friday, then hurried away.

The woman said she had repeatedly invited the man whom she described as a big yellow negro, to remain and tell her what he knew of her husband's death and requested him to accompany her to a train or to the wharfboat, telling him she was a stranger among strangers, having been in Ashland but a week, but he ignored her. Upon her return to Ashland she expects to enlist the aid of the police in locating the man, believing that he can throw some light upon the killing.

Mrs. Wright said her husband was given to drinking and gambling. She married him eleven months ago at Lynchburg, Va. They located at Bluefield, W. Va., for a time, later going to Williamson, W. Va., where she did housework in a private family. They came to Ashland a week ago Friday, he engaging a room at Julia Galloway's home. On Wednesday he kissed her good-bye, saying he was going away to hunt work. She said her husband had at different times worked on the N. & W. railway and was known by the nickname "Chalk."

His widowed mother is still living at Washington and a brother Charles Wright lives at Ronksdale, Va. She herself is a native of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Wright returned to Ashland Saturday noon and as she had no means of defraying the expense of taking the body of her husband with her it will be buried in the cemetery in the Porter's field.

Columbus, Oct. 3.—Shall a set all technical issues aside and decided that the girl in question was fully protected by the compensation law. The ruling will have the effect, it is thought, greatly of widening the scope of the compensation law itself so that it will embrace practically all cases of death during employment no matter how it may have been incurred.

The state industrial commission has started to invest its surplus funds in county road road bonds. Upon approval of Attorney General Hogan, the commission has just purchased $160,000 of such bonds from Trumbull county and $37,000 worth from Logan county.

Similar purchases will be made from other counties soon. The state reaps a profit of five percent from these bonds. This is a higher rate of interest than it obtains from banks for the use of the state funds. Since the beginning of the European war, which has made money scarce, many bond-buying concerns have refused to purchase county road bonds, and but for the action of the industrial commission in purchasing them, a number of counties would be unable to proceed with their road improvements.

The state of Ohio would approve an agreement by which the Columbia life insurance company of Cincinnati takes over $800,000 of policy business of the Appalachian Insurance company of Bristol, Virginia, if it first exacted a promise from the former concern that it would eliminate the so-called total abstinence policies included in the transfer. The sum of $827,557 was sent to Rev. Father P. Glockner at Maywood, O., for the parishioners who are suffering on account of the big coal strike in that part of the state. The money was solicited by Mrs. Leo Sommers and Mrs. Louis Hurth from members of the Holy Redeemer parish. Twelve large bags of clothing, weighing 1,000 pounds, were sent to Rev. Father McGaugh at Barton, O., Friday. The clothes are legal in Virginia, but may not be written in Ohio. Holders of such policies are liable to forfeit their insurance if they ever so much as take a single bite while at work, could his drink of beer. "We do not allow anybody superfluous," says the president of the company. The question whether the girl only would afford insurance companies the opportunity to nullify a policy under a more lenient interpretation, said State Superintendent of Insurance Robert M. Small.

It is hoped that all visiting Masons will take advantage of the hospitality that will be extended to them. The rooms, large and airy, and containing every convenience, are at the disposal of visiting friends and their families. The big passenger elevator will be kept running until 11 p. m. and everything possible will be done to make a delicious banquet.

The members of Aurora Lodge will on Monday string back a 50-foot banner across the street, upon which will be printed in four-foot letters, "Masons Headquarters." There may not be enough room on the banner for the word "Headquarters," but all Masons know that that word family claim an award. The such a policy to be written in Ohio without saying.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Big Rally To Be Held At The Trinity Church Tomorrow

Lesson I.—Fourth Quarter. For Oct. 4, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES

Text of the Lesson, Mark xiv, 1-11; Memory Verses, 8-9—Golden Text; Mark xiv, 8—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

There will be no Sunday School nor morning service at Trinity Sunday morning, but instead there will be a Rally and Concert.

The lesson consists of two parts, the one at Bethany and the agreement of Judas Iscariot with the chief priests to betray Jesus.

It is recorded by Matthew, Mark and John; the mention of the passover and of the son of God by Matthew, Mark and Luke. According to Mark xxi, 1, 2, it was after Jesus had finished the sayings of chapters xliii and xlii and two days before the passover that He spoke of His approaching betrayal and crucifixion, and we would conclude from Matthew and Mark that the supper and anointing took place at that time.

From the account in John xii, 6, we would see that it was six days before the passover and preceding the so-called triumphal entry that they had anointed Jesus.

It is impossible to arrange clearly the sequence of all the events in our Lord's life, but the gospels were written that we might know Himself rather than the order of events in His life.

It is to some confusing that while Luke does not record this anointing, he does mention an anointing in chapter viii, 40, which was also in the house of a unnamed Simon. But that was an altogether different event, much earlier in His ministry and by a woman whose name is not given, who said, "Be for us." The event of our lesson was in the home of Martha and Mary in Bethany, whose brother Lazarus had been raised from the dead (John 11, 1, 2). Matthew and Mark say that it was in the house of Simon the leper, but what relation he was to Martha and Mary we are not told and therefore do not need to know. If we think of it, and it seems wise to do so, we can ask them when we see them. John says that Lazarus sat at the table with Him. What a suggestive saying! The man who had been four days in the spirit world burst out on earth alive and well—a man whom the chief priests conspired to put to death because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away and believed in Jesus (John xii, 11).

At this supper Martha served, but there is no record of her being called an anointer in Luke x, 40, so we may hope that she had grown spiritually since that incident.

In view of such words as Phil. iv, 6, 7; 1 Pet. v, 7, we should never be numbered or anxious. The words "They made Him a supper" make us think of His post ascension words in Rev. iii, 20, and of the blessed assurance that if any one will open the door He will come in and stay with them.

As He sat at meat Mary came with an alabaster box containing a pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and she broke the box and poured it on His head and anointed His feet and wiped His feet with her hair (verse 3); Matt. xvi, 7; John xii, 3. Not only was the house filled with the odor of the ointment, but also the whole world, for He said in verse 9 that wherever in all the world the gospel should be preached, that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

This was real worship on the part of Mary, heart adoration, and it was very costly on her part and very precious to His heart. We are reminded of a saying of David in 11 Sam. xiv, 24 "Neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the Lord my God of that which dost cost me nothing." Some one has said that in Martha, Mary and Lazarus we have a sample of a well rounded Christian life—Martha, restful service, in Mary rest and in Lazarus the power of a risen life.

There will always be some indifference when more than ordinary (which is ordinarily very little) is given to Him.

It will be called a waste and by other names, while all spent upon one, others will seem all right. Judas Iscariot is called a thief in John xii, 4, but what about the thieves of Matt. iii, 8? If this love to us does not constrain us to spend more for Him than for ourselves then it is evident that we love ourselves most.

How comforting His word "Let her alone," she hath wrought a good work on me" (verse 8). Would that some other fainting meddlers might hear His "Let alone." We are sure that we are doing all "Unto Him" we may be confident of His approval, whatever others may say. His other word, "She hath done what she could" (verse 8), we may not be so sure of, for how few can it be said that we have done all that we could. He is the judge and will surely give all possible credit that He can.

He said that she anointed His body before burial for burying, and I believe that was her purpose, that she intended it, for it was her custom, when she could, to sit at His feet and hear His Word. She was not found with other women who taught spikenard to the dead body and never used to do so.

She seemed to understand about His cruel death at the hand of His enemies and that she could not minister to Him then. She was made ready for His preparation, she watched for her opportunity, and the arranged it for her, for He read her heart. How awful the contrast lies between the heart of Judas Iscariot and this devoted heart that loved Him so.

WOMAN WEAK AND NERVOUS

Finds Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I suffered with female troubles from the time I came into womanhood until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would have pains if I overworked or lifted anything heavy, and I would be so weak and nervous and in so much misery that I would be prostrated. A friend told me what had done for her and I tried it. It made me strong and healthy and our home is now happy with a baby boy. I am very glad that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and do all I can to recommend it."—Mrs. A. B. Boscamp, 604 E. Howard Street, Creston, Iowa.

Tons of Roots and Herbs
are used annually in the manufacture of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is known from ocean to ocean as the standard remedy for female ills.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING HELD BY WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS

DIVORCE SUITS HEARD BY FORMER JUDGES

One of the most successful conventions in the history of the Tenth District Woman's Relief Corps convened at the Baptist church Friday. The meeting was called to order by the District President, Anna M. Neff of Chillicothe, Ohio.

The distinguished State President, Janette M. Mann and Dr. Vice President Alice E. Matthews of Columbus, who arrived Wednesday, gave inspiration to the meeting. The morning was taken up by the reports of the work done in the different Corps, every one showing splendid progress. As each delegate registered they were given the convention badge. The reception committee, with Mrs. Mary Larch, chairman, met each incoming train and received the delegates and assigned them to their places.

At noon the convention adjourned and all went to the Y. W. C. A. and did justice to the tempting luncheon. The meeting was called to order again at 1:30 and after a very beautiful memorial service, the local Corps, Bailey No. 43, put on the ritualistic work under the inspection of the State President. The election of District officers was then taken up which resulted in the election of Lydia M. Rowe, Portsmouth president; Matilda Martin, Nelsonville, S. V. President; Lydia Linscott, Athens, treasurer; Anna S. Lowry, Athens, press correspondent. In appreciation of the service of the past three years, which have been very successful, the convention unanimously elected Anna M. Neff national delegate to Washington, D. C., next year. When Mrs. Neff took the district it was with a depleted treasury, and at the close of her term of office finds a very comfortable sum to their credit. Splendid donations from the district were made to the Nenita Home Christmas fund, and the department general fund. And in appreciation of the interesting report of the national convention sent by Grace L. Johnson, a beautiful souvenir spoon of Portsmouth, was sent her from the convention. Mrs. Mann left Saturday for Amelia, Ohio, to organize a new corps, by her sweet and unassuming manner, won for her the love and loyal support of every member of the Tenth District.

Several courtesies were rendered during the afternoon, bringing greetings from the G. A. R. After a rising vote of thanks to the District President, Anna M. Neff, for her successful administration and a splendid report from our Patriotic Instructor, Fanny L. Pinteney, the convention closed by endorsing Anna E. McFay of Wilmington, Ohio, for department president in 1915, and all assembled at the home of Mrs. C. W. Rowe where a bountiful spread was enjoyed. Mrs. Rowe was assisted by her charming daughters, Misses Stella and Helen, and the committee from the W. R. C.
